

Nursing Postdoctoral Fellowship in Housing & Veteran's Health Research

ADVANCE RESEARCH SKILLS & LAUNCH YOUR CAREER

The UCLA/VA Center of Excellence for Veteran Resilience and Recovery is seeking a PhD-prepared nurse for a two-year postdoctoral fellowship in Los Angeles.

Home to over 12 million people & over 200,000 veterans, Los Angeles is one of the largest urban centers in the United States to develop innovations for health among individuals with homelessness & housing instability.

Fellows will have unparalleled opportunities for on-the-ground research with support from UCLA and VA mentors.

ELIGIBILITY

- PhD in nursing
- Excellent writing & communication skills
- Strong quantitative & data science skills
- Willing to partner with the VA and UCLA
- Flexible start date & hybrid work options

APPLY

Send your CV to Sonya Gabrielian
(sonya.gabrielian@va.gov) & Brian Perez
(BrPerez@mednet.ucla.edu).

NEW SKILLS

Fellows will have access to courses, workshops, and advanced research training at UCLA in public health, nursing, public affairs, and more.

DEVELOP PARTNERSHIPS

UCLA/VA Center of Excellence for Veteran Resilience and Recovery is a unique academic/health system partnership, with strong ties to housing and health community-based organizations in Los Angeles.

INTERDISCIPLINARY MENTORS

Fellows will work with junior and senior investigators in nursing, psychiatry, psychology, addiction medicine, health services research, and public health on new and existing projects.

Funding & Team: The postdoc position is funded through the UCLA Chancellor's Office of Veterans Initiatives & Partnerships, Anthony DeFrancesco, Chief Liaison & Executive Director. Our faculty team includes Kenneth B Wells MD MPH (UCLA lead); Sonya Gabrielian MD MPH (VA lead); Sam Tsemberis PhD (COE director); & Kristen Choi PhD PMHNP (Nursing).