SPECIAL THANKS

We are extremely grateful to you, our generous friends and alumni, for your partnership in advancing our mission. Through your support, the UCLA School of Nursing continues to be a leader in nursing education with a commitment to educating nurse leaders who will deliver care with expertise and compassion, adroitly lead clinical teams, improve care through evidence-based research, and save lives. Together, we can take our school to the highest level of excellence. Thank you for being part of the UCLA Nursing family and thank you for your support—past, present, and future.
